RING IN THE NEW YEAR AT ARGENTARIO

THE ARGENTARIO GOLF RESORT & SPA in the Maremma region of Tuscany is the perfect place to ring in the New Year in style whilst soaking up the magical atmosphere of one of Italy's most luxurious five-star destinations.

After a period of limited travel, Argentario's New Year's Eve package gives revellers a wonderful opportunity to escape totally for a memorable festive break that combines delicious gourmet Italian cuisine and the chance to enjoy a resort dedicated to tranquility and wellness, set in acres of private grounds in a Mediterranean nature reserve and offering peaceful panoramas over the Orbetello Lagoon and Tyrrhenian Sea.

For gourmands, the highlight of the four-night stay will no doubt be the tasting menu dinner on the evening of December 31 prepared by talented local chef Lombardo Lombardelli. The celebrations culminate in a climax with a fireworks display and a party with live music and a DJ set to ring in 2022.

For those looking to work off the culinary excesses on New Year's Day, there is the opportunity to play the Resort's PGA

National Golf championship course. Designed by the architect David Mazzacane, the 6,718-metre, par-71 layout is an interesting and challenging layout that features a variety of tee elevations, mostly small, undulating greens and numerous water hazards.

The course meanders through ancient cork-oak woods and olive groves on the property with stunning views over the landscape from almost every hole. And thanks to the microclimate enjoyed by the location, golf can be played all year round. Guests can also take advantage of the complimentary use of the driving range and practice facilities. The Argentario Golf Academy features practice areas, driving bays and a TrackMan simulator.

Argentario is accessed from Rome Fiumicino Airport by car in just 90 minutes, whilst Siena is an hour and 15 minutes away, and Florence a two-hour drive. Rates for a four-night stay over the festive period, based on two people sharing a double room, are from €3,900 in a Superior room.

GOLF NEWS BECOMES OFFICIAL MEDIA PARTNER OF CLUBS TO HIRE

GOLF NEWS, THE UK'S NO.1 GOLF NEWSPAPER, has become the official Media Partner of popular golf equipment rental company Clubs to Hire.

The terms of the partnership will see print copies of Golf News placed inside hire bags, as well as stocked at Clubs to Hire's outlets located in airports throughout the world.

Jerry Judge, founder and chief executive of Clubs to Hire, said: "We have always supplied the best new golf sets to market and pride ourselves on offering great value for money, so to have a quality magazine such as Golf News available to our 50,000-plus loyal clients included in this package is something they will really appreciate."

Clubs to Hire currently boasts 22 club rental outlets throughout Europe, including Malaga, Alicante, Tenerife, Palma, Faro, Lisbon, Dublin and Edinburgh, while Cape Town, Marrakech, Orlando and Thailand are among those located in longer haul destinations.

Clubs to Hire has established itself as the hassle-free choice for golfers who don't want the inconvenience and expense of taking their own clubs abroad, but still want to play with the very best equipment at a far more competitive rate than that offered at golf resorts. Offering the very latest sets from the game's best selling brands, including Callaway, TaylorMade, Ping, PXG, Wilson and many more, golfers can take their pick from right and left-hand options in a wide variety of shaft flexes and lengths to ensure they're ready to play their best holiday golf.

Golfers can go online at www.clubstohire.com to pre-select sets of their choice of clubs, which are then either collected from shops in airport terminals or delivered direct to hotels or golf courses for even greater convenience.
